ROCKPORT'S BIG WEEK COMING

Maine Coast Craftsmen Will Attend Show and Sale At Eells Boat Barn

All handcraft trails along the coast of Maine lead this week to Rockport, as members of the Maine Coast Craftsmen, from Freeport to Stockton Springs, transport their interesting exhibits for their Rockport Boat Barn show and sale opening Monday at 2 p. m. Not only will the visitors to the show be able to see and to purchase excellent handcraft products made by many of Maine's finest craftsmen, but they will also see a score of the craftsmen actually at work making their products at the Boat Barn, during the coming week.

This second annual exhibit will be open each day from 2 to 9 p. m., Aug. 9 through 15, at the picturesque Boat Barn, Rockport. A schedule of the demonstrations is given below.

A new branch of this rapidly growing craft group, the Maine Coast Craftsmen, with headquarters at Rockport, was formed in July in Freeport. This new branch now has 16 members, several of whom will exhibit at the show, and includes Yarmouth, Palmouth and Brunswick, and has been tentatively named the "Casco Bay" branch.

Mrs. Minerva K. Warner is acting chairman, and writer Ellen Gaham is among the members.

The schedule of craft demonstrations for the exhibit follows. In addition to these, the Shore Village Hookers will show rug hooking methods at each session:

Monday, Elizabeth Crawford, Liberty, pottery making; Eliot Beveridge, Camden, nature pins; Mrs. Esther Carleton, Jefferson, angora wool spinning; Mrs. Elena MacInnis, Lincolnville, stencilling.

Tuesday, Mrs. Marguerite Dudley, wood-carving; Miss Crawford, pottery making and rug hooking.

Wednesday, Mrs. Fowler, Bremen, silver jewelry making; Natalie Koch, Walpole, designing and decorating on wood; Mr. Harold Todd, Belfast, hand-decorating and painting; rug hooking.

Thursday, Mrs. Dudley, wood-carving; Mrs. Helen Gushue, Union, hand-weaving; Mrs. Carleton, spinning; rug hooking.

Friday, Robert Packard, Warren, woodworking; Lawrence Leach, Camden, mosaic-making; Mrs. Betty Winchell, Freeport, hand-decorating; Mrs. Carleton, spinning; rug hooking.

Saturday, Janet Berry, Rockport, hand-decorating; Lawrence Leach, Camden, mosaic-making; Mrs. Dudley, wood-carving; rug hooking.

Sunday, Aug. 15, Mrs. Sara Fowler, jewelry making; Sally Kimball, Bath, block-printing on fabric; Catharine Adams, Camden, silk screen printing on fabric; Elizabeth Crawford, pottery making; Edgar Sewell, Liberty, explain process of etching; rug hooking. (This schedule is subject to change).

The members of the general Show Committee, headed by Howard and Eleanor Jones, Rockport, include Carroll and Janet Berry and Mrs. Barbara Richards of the Knox County mother group; Mrs. DeWitt Brewster, Mrs. Clyde Holmes, Mrs. Harold Todd, Waldo County Branch; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Fowler, Mrs. Vincent Koch, Miss Mildred Burrage, Lincoln County Branch; Mrs. Harrison Warner, Mrs. Elizabeth Winchell, Casco Bay Branch.

On a work group assisting the committee in getting the exhibit set up are Jay Hanna and Frank Hamabe, Rockport, George Perry,

James Adams, Chadbourne Richards, Camden.

Mrs. Barbara Richards, Camden, will be secretary-treasurer of the show, assisted by Ann Boynton, Camden, Polly Clement, Belfast, and Harold Englebrekt, Wiscasset.

On the Publicity Committee are Eleanor Jones, Eliot Beveridge, Frank Hamabe, Betty Foxwell, Mrs. Emily Weeks.

There will also be hosts and hostesses present at each session to meet visitors and answer questions.

Among the hostesses who will assist at the Monday exhibit are Mrs. Grace McMullen, Waldoboro; Mrs. Arthur Lamb, Rockland; Mrs. Louise Parnham, Mrs. Jay Hanna, Rockport; Mrs. Emma Vose, Mrs. Louise Hopkins, Stockton Springs; Miss Polly Clements, Belfast.

Tuesday, Natalie MacInnis, Lincolnville; Mrs. Catharine Adams, Soma Allen, Camden; Misses Mildred and Madeline Burrage, Wiscasset; Mrs. Ambrose Cramer, Mrs. Pauline McCormick, Mrs. Martha Sherman, Mrs. Ruth Eaton, Belfast.

Wednesday, Leonora Hoffmeister, Walpole; Miss Ella Graeff, Mrs. Margaret Dietz, Mrs. Louise Underwood, Rockport; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Todd, Ruth Crichton, Belfast; Laura Pomeroy, Rockland; Mrs. Adams, Camden.

Thursday, Mrs. Dorothy Allen, Mrs. Jane Meliska, Camden; Ethel Stuart, Stockton Springs; Mrs. Irene Wolf, Mrs. Underwood, Rockport; Mrs. Carl Jensen, Rockport; Mrs. Dale Byrge, Wiscasset; Mrs. Elsa West, South Thomaston.

Friday, Mrs. Arthur Brewer, Rockland; Helen Whelan, Newcastle; Natalie MacInnis, Lincolnville; Mrs. Cramer, Rockport; Mrs. Dorothy Beveridge, Camden; Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Eaton, Belfast.

Sunday, Mrs. Harold Englebrekt, Misses Burrage, Wiscasset; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Todd, Belfast; Mrs. Lamb, Rockland; Mrs. Hodding Carter, Rockport.

The Pauline was launched Wednesday from Thomaston Yard.

Newport and Wallace Shipyard of Thomaston launched the 83-foot sardine carrier Pauline for North Lubec Manufacturing and Canning Company, at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Sponsor was Miss Marjorie Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hunter of Rockville.

The craft follows the general hull and deck design of two previous craft launched by the yard this year for Bath Canning Company and Holmes Packing Corporation. She is oak framed, hard pine planked and has white pine decking.

Power is supplied by a Budda 171 h-p-r power diesel engine. The deck hoisting engine was supplied by Fairbanks-Morse. She will be equipped with ship to shore telephone.

The yard now has in frame a carrier of the same design for Glen Lawrence of the Belfast Packing Company and will lay down another on the ways just vacated by the Pauline, a similar craft for Calvin Stinson.

WILL BE NO SUB-PRIMARY

Final Decision Has Been Reached—The City
Council Will Not Appropriate More

The final decision as to whether or not there will be sub-primary grades in the Rockland school system this year has been made, according to Dr. Gilmore W. Soule, chairman of the School Board who states that there will be no sub-primary. The City Council will not appropriate one penny more than that which has already been allocated, he said, this information coming from a joint meeting of the two boards held Tuesday night.

He stated that the School Board has studied the problem from every angle and cannot see any other course than to discontinue the sub-primary.

Soule points out that the school system has not the same amount of money with which to operate that it had last year. The reduction in State grants amounts to over $5000 while costs of fuels have risen, as well as other items necessary to the proper operation of the schools, until the working funds for the system at large are much less than last year.

In addition to cutting out the sub-primary, it has become necessary, he said, to forego much needed repairs to the sanitary systems of the schools and to set aside additional fire safety features already planned.

Taking into consideration the crowded conditions of the schools, the School Board asked the City Manager to ascertain the actual cost of repairing the Grace Street School to the point where it might be used for sub-primary classrooms. The refusal of additional funds now makes this move unnecessary, Soule said.

Soule stated that the present situation might have been avoided had those people who want the sub-primary retained, appeared at the annual council budget meeting and made their wishes known before the final budget was made up. He recommends their presence at the budget meeting next June at which time they can make their wishes known as to the school budget.

Erland Jura of Warren will head the Knox-Lincoln United Co-operative Farmers Group for the next year, being elected to the post of president of the Co-operative in a meeting held in Rockland, Wednesday.

Other officers of the organization will be: Fred Weibel, Warren, vice president; John Ungvary, Union, secretary; Charles Kigel, Warren, treasurer; John Brook, Union, and John Kajander, Waldoboro, delegate and alternate respectively to the co-operative's main body at Fitchburg, Mass. Store committee-men will be Fred Weibel, John Kajander and Tauno Hurme.

The co-operative will hold its annual picnic Aug. 29, at Seven Tree Pond, Union.

Rockport, 3 to 8.30 p. m. At the afternoon session Miss Irma Leckmann and Miss Louise Gamble, students from the International group of Landhaven School, Camden, will speak at 3.15 and 4.30. Miss Rose P. Danforth will address the club on the subject, "The Future Outlook of Labor-Management Relations."

At 7.30 in the evening, the guest speaker will be Prof. R. Stanley Thompson of Russell-Sage College, Troy, N. Y. Summer resident of Camden. His subject, "World Government."

This is to be a highlight of the Summer picnic meetings and all members are urged to be present.

Rockland will welcome Mr. Leach to the list of business men who have become interested in the city's activities. He and his brother are owners of Glenwood Range Company of Taunton and are especially interested in several stores in other New England cities; particularly in Portland and Lewiston.

Fish Commissioner Praises Jaycees For Success Of Lobster Festival

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I would like to publicly congratulate the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce on their splendid job in staging the Lobster and Seafood Festival. It was a very picturesque and colorful event that did much for Rockland and the fishing industry in general.

Chairman Charles E. Bicknell, 2d, and members of his committee worked hard for this success, and they have a lot of credit due them. They also received splendid co-operation from the lobster and fish dealers.

I sincerely hope that the Festival will become an annual event for Rockland. The fishing industry has long needed such events to help focus attention on the large part that it plays in the economy of our State.

Richard E. Reed,
Commissioner.

[EDITORIAL]

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

FOR VICE PRESIDENT—EARL WARREN of California

KEEPING HIGHWAYS CLEAN

Frank H. Holley, chairman of the drive to "Keep Maine Highways Clean" expresses his satisfaction in the results already achieved, but indicates that there is still much room for improvement. Elimination of waste thrown from motor cars is one of the objects. Aims of the campaign are thus listed:

To preserve and restore orderly natural growth along the roadside with due thought to safe driving.

To cover bare embankments and to shield gravel pits with informal planting; to prevent erosion by terracing, and to conceal with clinging vines bleak concrete walls.

To thin out sections to give a better view of the lake, mountain and river scenery; provide parking for motorists who wish to linger for the views.

To standardize directional signs; to have more directional signs and to mark places of scenic and historical interest.

To exterminate caterpillars and other insects that destroy the beauty of trees and shrubs. (The State Department of Agriculture will be glad to give directions as to how this may be done.)

To clean up rubbish, dumps, cans, bottles, papers, and any other unsightly things along the highway. To bring pressure to bear to clean up automobile graveyards.

To impress upon our roadside stands the value of beautifying their property, and try to get them away from bazaar appearance.

To repair or remove where possible, tumbled down fences and gates. Remove all unsightly briars, bushes, weeds, and tall grass, etc.

To repair or remove old buildings and keep them from being plastered with advertising. Keep rubbish and worn out machinery from the roadside.

To keep buildings well painted. Plant trees and shrubs in the yards so that the whole place will look neat and tidy.

SENATOR WHITE'S NEW TITLE

At the first annual district convention of the National Association of Broadcasters in Boston Tuesday, Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., was acclaimed "The Father of Radio Law in America." Senator White's work in behalf of this important industry has been of an outstanding character ever since it began its climb to international fame, and he will long be remembered for it.

TURKEYS WILL BE HIGHER

It will surprise nobody to learn that Thanksgiving turkey prices will be higher this year, for everything else is. The Agricultural Department adds that there is no prospect of more chicken and egg prices before next year. The reason: farmers reduced poultry flocks the past year because feed grains were scarce as well as high. However, latest crop reports for the feeding year beginning Oct. 1 indicate the feed supplies will be largest on record. And department officials expect this to be a major factor in encouraging farmers to produce more poultry in 1949—thus trimming your Thanksgiving outlay next year.

STORY SHOULD BE PROBED

Americans are being treated to the most lurid spy thriller of the century. The recital of repentant ex-Communist Elizabeth T. Bentley before a special Senate committee drags in a trusted Commerce Department official, a former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, a former member of the White House staff, and the former private secretary of a famous columnist.

For several reasons the spy ring portion of this fantastic story may have a core of truth. First, Miss Bentley's testimony in many respects is detailed and circumstantial. Second, as more than one capable reporter points out, her account possesses some resemblance to the Canadian spy case. Third, another fugitive from the Communist Party, Louis F. Budenz, supports much of her story which declares there was a spy ring which was doing its best to obtain secret military information.

But there are also a number of reasons why Americans should view the progress of the episode with a healthy skepticism and recognize the part of the story which deals with "contacts" in responsible Government positions rests solely on Miss Bentley's own and so far unsupported allegations. First, she told her story to the P. B. I. three years ago, and since has tried to help them get evidence that would "stick," apparently without great success. Second, it is reported that she appeared before the New York grand jury which recently indicted Communist party chiefs, and that the jury could not corroborate enough of her testimony to include "espionage" as well as "conspiracy" in its charges.

There doubtless has been and still is Russian spy activity in this country. In behalf of national safety, as well as in justice to the men and women whom Miss Bentley names, her story should be probed to the bottom. Meanwhile—these are times when hysteria is in the air. Thoughtful citizens will remember this and keep cool.—Christian Science Monitor.

MR. TRUMAN'S TEAM

The thought that President Truman's recall of Congress was intended to convey was that his team was all ready to get in there pitching for civil rights anti-inflation legislation and every kind of measure that would be attractive to the voters in an election year. The Republicans were supposed to be confused by the sudden onslaught and offer only feeble obstructionism. The Democrats, by and large, show unhealthily signs of meeting the President's expectations. But Mr. Truman's team is not living up to its advance billing.

The Democrats in Congress, of course, are split by the civil rights issue. But the Administration spokesmen who were to spell out the details of President Truman's plans, also developed an unaccountable shyness when it became necessary for them to speak their pieces. Mr. McCabe, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, doubted whether he could discuss credit and banking controls before next week, when Senator Tobey invited him to appear before the Senate Banking Committee. And Mr. Snyder asserted that he would prefer to follow Mr. McCabe. It required a good deal of pressure by Senator Tobey, a Republican who is far from unsympathetic to appeals for anti-inflation measures, to get Mr. McCabe on the stand yesterday.

If Mr. Truman was sincere in believing that Congress could dispose of his program out of hand, he certainly did nothing to prepare his own appointees for the job of expediting matters. If he was not, if he expected that Congress would ignore his own recent conversion to economic controls and merely engage in a campaign dog fight, his own forces would be as disorganized and tardy as they have, in fact, proved to be. In any case, Mr. Truman's team has contributed little to advance the cause he professes to cherish.—Herald Tribune.

Will Hold "Wreck"

Forty and Eight Event Will Take Place In October

Knox County Vulture of 40 and 8 will hold a wreck in October, with Ervin Curtis of Rockland as chairman of the affair. The decision to hold the wreck was made at a joint meeting Monday night at Union of the 40 and 8 and the Union Legion Post.

The Vulture donated $5 to the fund now being raised by South Thomaston residents to aid the two Dennison children who were badly burned in a Frenchtown, N. Y. accident and who are now patients at Knox Hospital.

Three degrees will be conferred at the Wreck with guests attending from all sections of the county.

THE GAME OF GAMES

Pirates Came From Behind To Tie Waldoboro
—Pirates vs. Rockets Sunday

COMING GAMES

Sunday Afternoon
Rockland Pirates vs. Rockland Rockets.

Tuesday Night

Rockland at St. George.
Warren at Thomaston.
Camden at Spruce Head.
Rockport at Waldoboro.

Thursday Night

Spruce Head at Rockland.
Waldoboro at Warren.
Thomaston at Rockport.
St. George at Camden.

Rockland 4, Waldoboro 4

The Pirates nearly turned back Waldoboro for their second defeat last night but couldn't manage that final tally. While they battled Waldoboro to the 4-4 tie, Thomaston dropped their sixth loss to Camden, 9-7. The Pirates have now taken over second place.

Waldoboro boys got off to a running start in the 2d when they loaded the bases with none down. Bowman and R. Wink had singled and Sprague was patched. Then E. Bagley forced Bowman out at home. Two wild pitches let in two runs and put E. Bagley on with a walk. Nevins singled to right to drive in runs three and four.

The Pirates took up Waldoboro on its six errors and made the most of them. In the second, Chisholm lined one to Nevins who dropped it, allowing Chisholm to reach first. Billings singled to right, sending Chisholm to third. In taking second, Billings drew the throw which went by into centerfield, Chisholm scoring. Billings kept on coming and slid home—Sprague missed the relay to the plate.

In the fifth, French opened, reaching first on an error. Kelsey forced French at second. Todd singled to right, moving Kelsey to third. While Bowman was winding up, Kelsey streaked for home and slid in safely, beating the pitch. Todd, meanwhile, had made third and drew a throw which Wink let get by, and Todd scored to tie up the game.

The Pirates threatened in both the sixth and seventh with a rally reaching third, but both times the rally was cut short.

Rockland 11, Thomaston 1
"Al" Barlow pitched and batted the Pirates to an 11-1 romp over Thomaston at Thomaston Tuesday night. While allowing only five hits and two walks, "Al" drove in seven runs with two singles and a grand slam home run just inside the right field foul post.

The win put the Pirates in nearly a tie with Thomaston. Both have lost five but Thomaston has won more.

"Tommy" Anderson drove in three tallies with a double and two singles.

In the early innings, the Pirates led by 1-0. Thomaston had held them down by two double plays, but in the fifth the Pirates broke loose to score three on two walks and three singles.

The lone Thomaston tally came in the sixth on a single by Lynch, a walk and a single by Tweedie. Going into the eighth, the Pirates led 5-1; but in that eighth, "Ray" Upham faced 11 Pirates and six runs crossed home.

Ellis opened the inning, reaching second on an overthrow to first by Tweedie. Todd singled and DiRenzo walked to lead the bases. Upham walked Miller, scoring one. Anderson singled sharply to center, scoring Todd. With the bases still loaded, Barlow poled a grand slam homer over the right field fence to put on ice this second league win in two tries.

A telegram from Mrs. Alton Williams, who is at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore with her son, Gordon, to her husband yesterday, gave the news that the youngster has improved sufficiently since his operation Tuesday to be moved from the special section in which he has been since that time to the regular children's ward of the hospital.

The date of the rummage sale which is to be given in Odd Fellows Hall, Tenants Harbor, for benefit of the Jackson Memorial Library was incorrectly stated in Tuesday's issue. The proper date is Aug. 19.

Leo Pomeroy, vendor of Purity Bread Products made his appearance in Rockland yesterday for the first time in five weeks, nearly recovered from the head-on automobile collision in which he figured at Jefferson. He sustained a cracked rib, and a general shaking up.

Coastal Wardens Frank Hallowell and Clayton Simmons released over 700 pounds of seed lobsters in the waters of the bay Thursday. These had been bought from dealers who had held them for State purchase after they had borne eggs while in storage. This practice is being carried out all along the coast. A sufficient number to stock the State hatchery at Boothbay Harbor are sent there with the over supply being liberated in the waters off the coast after being marked as State property by cutting a Vee in the middle fin of the tail. A similar operation was carried out last week with 1000 pounds being released after being taken from pounds in the Vinalhaven area.

Thursday night's meeting of Winslow-Holbrook-Merritt Post, A. L., brought no decision as to what action the building committee will be requested to make on the recent bids received for construction of a new Legion home and store block on Limerock street. The committee reported all three bids received to be in excess of the amount estimated to construct the building, originally $100,000.

Cub Scouts 78 and 28 of South Portland sponsored an outdoor cooking demonstration Wednesday by Charley Miller, famous Maine guide of Bangor. Three other Scout troops were also invited, as well as the City Manager, J. Harold Webster and Chief of Police Frank Whittemore. Charley Miller also showed movies of a camping trip in the Maine woods.

The Kiwanis Club

George I. Shaw, Chief of Police, was the guest speaker Monday night. He gave a very interesting talk on the police Methods and traffic control. He asked that all the members use hand methods signals which he believes will eliminate many traffic tangles and fender bumps.

He further stated that entrances to and from the city would be patrolled and the 25-mile an hour speed limit enforced. He emphasized particularly the necessity of protecting the children of the community from fast drivers.

After listening to Chief Shaw, one could not help but think that the city of Rockland is very lucky to have a man of his personality and capability as chief of its police force.

For Elderly People

A statewide committee of county chairmen has been appointed by the Maine Publicity Bureau to arrange transportation for elderly people who have no other way to get to the meeting of the Maine Three-Quarter Century Club at Bath, Aug. 18.

Frank H. Holley of Waterville is general chairman of the transportation committee and assisting him will be the 16 county directors of the Maine Publicity Bureau.

All requests for this transportation will be cleared through Mr. Holley at the Maine Publicity Bureau, Gateway Circle, Portland. The county chairmen will then be notified of the requests and the established weir. In this case, he said, the seine of the South Bristol man was slightly under 1400 feet from the weir of the Dix Island Company and between High and Birch islands. Jones was fined $100 and costs of $2.70. Workers on the seine with him, Leroy R. Rice and Irving C. Foster, both of South Bristol, were charged with aiding Jones were fined the same amount.

In Municipal Court

Tuesday, Fred Knight, Florence street was charged with assault and battery on his wife, Anna. Found guilty, he was fined $10 and costs of court amounting to $9.06. Appealing the case, bail was supplied by his wife, whose complaint had brought him to the courtroom.

Jay Carlton of Revere, Mass., was fined $10 and costs on charges of passing another vehicle on Creek Hill in Thomaston. Chief of Police Charles Worcester of Thomaston was complainant.

Wednesday, Henry Jones of South Bristol was found guilty on charges brought by Coastal Warden Supervisor Frank Hallowell of establishing a seine too close to the weir of another. Hallowell explains that the law provides that at least 2000 feet must separate the seine and the established weir. In this case, he said, the seine of the South Bristol man was slightly under 1400 feet from the weir of the Dix Island Company and between High and Birch islands. Jones was fined $100 and costs of $2.70. Workers on the seine with him, Leroy R. Rice and Irving C. Foster, both of South Bristol, were charged with aiding Jones were fined the same amount.

Lakewood Theatre

Diana Herbert

When "For Love or Money" closes Saturday night, Conrad Nagel and Diana Herbert will be leaving the scene, but taking their places next week in the guest spotlight will be Claire Luce and John Williams in the premiere of a new drama, "The Road From Mandalay."

"The Road From Mandalay" is another production which will make its pre-Broadway debut at Lakewood. It makes use of a war background for the most effective means of expressing its study of the psychology of fear when tangled with the emotion of love. Set in Malaya, the play presents a group of Europeans who receive their first indication that trouble is brewing with the arrival of Eric Carlson as information officer.

George Fraser, who holds sway over the town, objects to Eric's radio warnings to the natives, his opinion being that the white people should not be hindered by hysteria in their evacuation. George's wife, Helen, is the only person to conquer her fear long enough to aid Eric in his task. When surrender has been made to the Japanese and their arrival is imminent, Helen and Eric are the only Europeans remaining; their approach to what may result makes a dramatic and thrilling finale.

"For Love or Money" will be presented at Lakewood through Saturday of this week at 8 o'clock with a 2.30 matinee on the final day. "The Road From Mandalay," under Melville Burke's direction, will be staged Aug. 9th through the 14th.

Services were held Tuesday at the Burpee Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary F. Chapman, 72, formerly of this town, who died Saturday at Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston after a brief illness.

Mrs. Chapman was born in Vinalhaven, daughter of William Mary S. Claver. She was married to Charles Chapman of Belfast and two sons were born of this union, Alfred of Portland and the late Donald, who was killed on the police force in Rockland.

She resided in Rockland for several years, later moving to this town where she resided for 15 years. She resided with Mrs. Ada Simpson until three weeks ago when she went to Portland to make her home with her grandson, Alfred Chapman, Jr.

Mrs. Chapman was a member of Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S., and also one of the oldest members of Pleasant Valley Grange.

Besides her son and grandson, she is survived also by one great-grandchild, Merle Ann Chapman, of Portland, and several nieces and nephews in Vinalhaven.

Her body was sent to Massachusetts for cremation.

Softball League

Perry's Makes Great Rally and Take the Sunberth

Sunday afternoon a large crowd saw the Perry's Markets take a double header from the Cement Plant; also a single game from them on Tuesday. That puts the Perry boys a game and a half ahead of the Dragons.

Shorty Kewick pitched superb ball those three games. He looked awfully fast. Excellent fielding and timing made Perry's look like a hard team to beat.

Perry's have four more games to play and Cement Plant, three, so don't sell the Dragons short.

Sunday, Aug. 15, at Bangor, the Perry's Markets and the Portland Cement Plant will represent Rockland in the State softball tournament.

Two Mystery Weeks

Plenty Of Thrills At The Camden Hills Theatre

Solving robberies, seeing hands reach out of secret panels in the wall, hearing screams in the middle of the night, and coping with murderers may be unusual to most people, but to the members of the Camden Hills Theatre, it's just nothing at all.

This week-end next, unless the strain of crime solving gets too great, are mystery weeks at the Camden Hills Theatre. Now playing is the mystery-comedy, "The Bishop Misbehaves," while on the schedule for next week is "The Cat and the Canary," a spine-chilling murder mystery.

"The Bishop Misbehaves" is the story of an English bishop and his elderly sister who stumble upon a hold-up in a village pub, follow up several clues and find the stolen property, then trap the criminals.

On the more exciting side, and liable to make "The Bishop Misbehaves" seem like a children's story, is "The Cat and the Canary," a true thriller which follows the formula to the extent of being located in a large, gloomy house, more or less isolated, which has secret panels in the walls, even a ghost or two.

Playing through Saturday is "The Bishop Misbehaves," which stars Archie Greer as the Bishop of Broadminster, and Laurel Clements as his sister, Lady Emily Lyons. The supporting cast is made up of James Spitz, Barbara Mills, Harry Paul, Jerald Cunningham, Ted Jenkinson, and Louis Smith, while Marney Abrams and Evelyn Lipsky play the romantic leads.

"The Cat and the Canary" opens Tuesday of next week at the Opera House and will play through Saturday. Reservations for both plays may be made at the box office in the Camden Opera House.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rosenbloom and Miss Celia Rosenbloom have been spending a few days in the city where Mr. Rosenbloom and Miss Celia formerly resided. Mr. Rosenbloom has seen lots of the country since he left home, having, in fact, visited every State in the Union. He is now manager of the diamond department of the Meyer Jewelry Company, Woodward at Grand Circus Park, Detroit, Mich. "Hyvie" praised the improved condition of Rockland's Main street.

Class Of '22, Rockland High School, Has Reunion At Crescent Beach

Ten members and eight guests of the Class of 1922, Rockland High School Saturday night held their fourth reunion at Crescent Beach Inn, of which George Sleeper '22 is proprietor.

Excellent shore and chicken dinners, ending with a large decorated anniversary cake, made and presented by the Sleepers, made the first of the evening very enjoyable. Pictures were passed from one to another, including one taken when the members were Freshmen.

The party adjourned to the attractive recreation room for the business meeting, with President Herman H. Hart presiding. Mildred Oxten Crie served as secretary in the absence of Audrey Blackington, Tel. Ronald Lord, treasurer, reported.

It was voted to hold another reunion the last Saturday in July next year, arrangements to be made by the committee. A rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. Sleeper for their generous hospitality and extra courtesies.

Howard Rollins read a class prophecy written in 1922, in the form of a "dream" as to what each original member of the class was doing in the then future of 1930. Needless to say, this brought much laughter.

Edmund Barnard, teacher, guest of honor for the evening, showed many of his excellent still pictures of Maine in color, proving again what a grand glorious State Maine is; also excellent pictures of Panama, loaned by Mrs. Kathleen Fuller.

Two more members and a guest joined the party in time for the pictures, making a get-together of 21, thus: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell of Milton, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Hurd of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Snow of Brainard, Mass., Ralph Glendinning of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rollins of Camden, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lord, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crie, Mr. and Mrs. William Koster, Mrs. Kathleen Fuller, Fred Mealey and guest, and Edmund Barnard.

Do You Like Cats?

Then Read This Human Interest Story About Two Felines

(By Frank H. Miller)

This year we took Tommy and Fluffy, not Toms but ordinary males, to the cottage with us.

They are five years old this Summer, no relation to each other, but great pals. Other Summers, instead of taking them with us, we have arranged to have them fed at home, and in case we had to go home for a day or two during the season the cats were so glad to see us they would hardly let us out of their sight.

When we would pack up to leave, it was pitiful to see them trying to say, "Please take us with you." Every year we have said that next season we would take them along but we never did until this Summer, and now we are wondering why we never did bring them since they have got along so well and had such a good time.

Many people hesitate to take pets to the lake or to answer the purpose of not being able to keep them indoors long enough for them to become familiar with the surroundings. Here's what we did:

We happen to have a shed on the rear of our cottage, but it makes no difference for an unused corner of a kitchen to answer the purpose. We put a trap-door in the floor just large enough for the cats to go through. Our cottage has slats all around it, including the veranda on two sides, thus giving them a chance to be out of doors on the ground.

After about two weeks they succeeded in enlarging a small open space under the slats large enough to get out. To our surprise they appeared on the window sill one night and wanted to come in. We found the place where they got out but we left it open for them to do so, if they needed it, and too, we decided they were well enough acquainted with the place to roam around. They are always at home in the morning for breakfast.

Some people agree with us, others do not, when we say that all animals have a way of communicating with each other though they cannot talk. For example, Mrs. Miller and I had to go home on business a short time ago, and were gone two days. We left food and drink for the kitties and told them they must get along alone while we were away.

We arrived back at the cottage late at night of the second day and Tommy, hearing our voices, came out to the car to meet us. He was hungry and, in a short time, was eating a good meal. I kept saying to him "Where is Fluffy?" Each time he would look at us as much as to say, "Don't worry. He will be here in a few minutes."

After he had finished eating he immediately asked to go out, and in 15 to 20 minutes we heard the kitchen door latch rattle. Upon opening the door, there stood both cats. No one can believe that when Tommy went out he didn't hunt up his pal and make known, somehow to him, that we had returned, and for him to come and get his supper.

Although Tommy had had his meal, he came back with Fluffy to show us that he found him. He had a way of telling him. Otherwise, someone will have to figure out how Tommy came back with him so promptly.

One of the things I have never been able to understand is why some people will take cats to lake or shore resorts, or perhaps make a home for them at a cottage that will come to them during the Summer, then in the Fall go home and leave them.

I cannot conceive of anything more inhuman than to pet an animal during the Summer and make it happy in the thought of having a good home, then instead of taking it in the Fall, or finding a home for it, some people will simply lock the door and leave the poor creature to starve or take to the woods to become another wild animal. If people could only realize how a dumb animal must feel, after being petted more or less all Summer, to be kicked out in the Fall when cold weather is coming on—if people could be made to realize this, it doesn't seem as though they could be so heartless.

A few years ago the writer, touring in the late Fall, drove through a shore resort. Just before leaving the village we all stopped at a store where there were a number of cats. I remarked on the proprietor being fond of cats. He replied it wasn't that he was so fond of them but those that were left behind by cottagers seemed to come to him.

Every year one or two would wander in and get a good meal. After that they would disappear for a day and when they came back they would generally bring one or two with them. He said he would have 10 or 12 by the time he closed up when he could call the Humane Society and they would come after them.

I hesitate to believe that those who close their cottages in the Fall and leave their pets to starve, do it through heartlessness. I prefer to believe they either do not think about the pets in their hurry, or else they feel that someone will take them in and make a home for them.

How much better it would be for all, who have a Summer pet, if they are unwilling to take with them, to find a home for it, or

Many Present At Family Reunion At The Lookout In Jefferson

The 11th annual Cuthbertson reunion was held Sunday, July 25, at the Lookout in Jefferson, with 62 members and guests present. A picnic lunch was enjoyed, with lobsters and clams as the main attraction.

Group singing and dances were specialties. The business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Robert Cuthbertson.

The following officers were elected of the year 1949: President, Mrs. Olive Clark; vice president, Mrs. Mervin Haskell; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Winfield Havenner. Next year's reunion will be held the last Sunday in July, the place to be decided later.

There have been five weddings since the reunion in 1947, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Cuthbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cuthbertson, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cuthbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cuthbertson.

It was voted to have members sign a pledge so that when a bus is hired, those who don't go will pay just the same. Anyone who wishes to have a picnic lunch in anyone's wishes to bring baked beans or hot dogs.

After the business meeting all hands went to Jefferson Beach where all enjoyed a swim in the cool waters of the lake. All returned home tired but well content.

The oldest member present was Mrs. Jean Cuthbertson, aged 73, and the youngest, James Cuthbertson, aged 20 months. Among visitors present was Brent Campbell, aged two months.

Among those attending were: Mrs. Jean Cuthbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bates, Mr. and Mrs. George Cuthbertson and son, James, Bobbie, Douglas and Janet Drinkwater of Sanerville, Mrs. Olive Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Haskell, Bernice and Shirley Haskell, Owen Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cuthbertson, Robert and Lawrence Cuthbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richards and son, Ronnie of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cuthbertson and son Leo, Jewel, Joan Jean and Reggie Connor of Cooper Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jackson, Junior Rodney, Jean, Gloria Jackson and Faylene Enstrom of Orr's Corner. Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Havenner and Jane Waldboro, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cuthbertson, Jennie and Gladys Cuthbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cuthbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown and daughter, Charlene, all of Rockland.

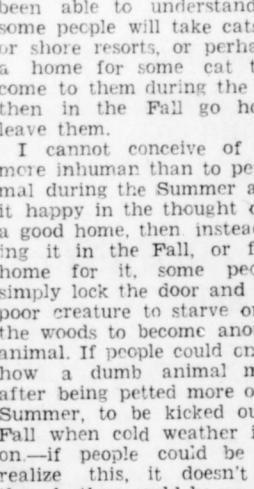

The visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Campbell and son Brent of Sangerville, Kathleen Dyer of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bolduc, Junior Dot and Theresa Bolduc of Augusta, Jean Laurence of Orr's Corner, Uncle Albert and daughter, Bernice and friend, from Water-

SERMONETTE

The Old Order Changeth

There have been many changes since my early boyhood in Rockland; most of them as to physical well being, for the better. None would care to change back, of course; nevertheless, I question if people are as happy as they were in those days.

During my life, Rockland paved her streets, put in the electric fire alarm, brought the railroad down town, changed all the wooden sidewalks, very dangerous, to brick. Some people burned gas of poor quality, but kerosene lamps lighted most homes; there were few bathtubs, no street cars or buses. Ben Littlefield and James Fiske drove accommodations to South Thomaston and Clark Island; a stage twice a day to Rockport and Camden. One to Thomaston. There were no movies, radio was not born, and telephones just came into vogue.

Now what did Rockland people do without beauty parlors, autos, movies, electric ranges, electric refrigerators, power boats, and all those things they now deem essential?

They developed spiritually. Not a church has been built since. They built splendid homes and schools, in evidence today. They built fine public buildings like the Court House and the Post Office. The people owned their own homes. Daily wages ranged from $2.50 to $3 for eight hours of honest labor. They developed as a strong people, cultured, refined, patriotic musical. Had several fine newspapers. They did it with their own industry and had no thought of the Government or State or Industry pensioning them.

They knew nothing of social security and took care of their old folks. They were reverent, self-reliant, and thus prepared to meet the changing vicissitudes that fell fast upon them, and they experienced the happiness that always followed such conditions.

They learned that as a people, as well as individual, life does not consist in the abundance of things they possessed.

Grow In Greenhouse

Interesting Lobster Experiment Being Made By Fisheries Experts

The University of Maine is probably the only place in the world where lobsters are kept alive and growing in a greenhouse.

This strange procedure is part of an experiment conducted for the Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries to find better ways of keeping the crustaceans alive in land cities in both natural and artificial salt water.

The work is being carried on by Biologist John Getchell of the university's experiment station staff, and he has converted a greenhouse into a laboratory. His equipment includes a regular lobster holding tank, and salt water is taken to the university from the ocean at regular intervals. Getchell is also making artificial salt water with good results.

He has held lobsters in the same water as long as six weeks in a stretch and if his experiments are successful, the department hopes to be able to expand and increase consumption of the crustaceans in the southwest and middle western states.
